What the December Woman's Home Companion Contains

There is a Merry Christmas indeed with the December number of the Woman's Home Companion. The cover by Jessie Willcox Smith is one of the most beautiful of modern Madonnas and is a work of art in itself. "The Enchanted Chimney," a Christmas story by Mary Theresa Hart, beautifully illustrated, and "A Christmas Conspiracy," a one act play by Anna Senee Richardson, will prove boons for those of us who are getting up Christmas entertainments. A charming song by Louise Ayers Garrett is a contribution to holiday music. As for fiction, timely stories are offered by such writers as Catherine Holland Brown, Laura Spencer Porter, Marion Hill, Philip Merrill Nichols, and a new story by Mary E. Watkins Freeman is begun in this number. "The Admiral's Niece" by Kate Douglas Wiggin and her collaborators is now well started.

The practical side of the holidays is taken care of in hundreds of practical suggestions for presents, such as "Gifts From the Work-Bench," "Gifts in Painted China," "Binding Books at Home," "The Book-plate as a Gift," "Trimming the Home Tree," etc.
Edward Sanford Martin appears in an article entitled "We and Our Family," which should prove of universal interest; Kellogg Durand begins the romance of Spunk, King and Queen, and an appropriate holiday essay is furnished by Sophie K. Underwood. The children are taken care of with new and delightful stories and suggestions, and for the housewife, and for the home dressmaker recipes and styles of the very best are to be found.

What Cures Eczeema?

We have had so many inquiries lately regarding Eczeema and other skin diseases, that we are glad to make our answer public. After careful investigation we have found that a simple wash of Oil of Wintergreen, as compounded in D. D. D., can be relied upon. We would not make this statement to our patrons, friends and neighbors unless we were sure of it—and although there are many so-called Eczeema remedies sold, we ourselves unhesitatingly recommended D. D. D. Prescription.
"Because—We know that it gives instant relief to that torturing itch."
"Because—D. D. D. starts the cure at the foundation of the trouble."
"Because—It cleanses, soothes and heals the skin."
"Because—It enables Nature to repair the ravages of disease."
"Because—The records of ten years of complete cures of complete cures of thousands of the most serious cases show that D. D. D. is today recognized as the absolutely reliable Eczeema Cure. Drop into our store today, so talk over your case with us. Haydon & Robertson.

Battle With Wildcats.

Elizabethtown, Ky., Nov. 23.—John Resor, a farmer of near Vine Grove, this county, had a very narrow escape from being killed by two wildcats a few days ago. While lying in his bed at night he heard his dog barking near the house and procuring his gun went out and found that the dog had two large wildcats tread. Resor fired and killed one of them and the other immediately jumped out of the tree and ran upon the dog.
Resor went to the assistance of his dog and the wildcat then jumped on him and was tearing his flesh to pieces and would have killed him had it not been for the fact that the dog came to his master's aid and succeeded in whipping off the cat. Finally Resor shot and killed the wildcat.
Get the genuine Polsky's Honey and Tar in the yellow package. It is safe and effective. Contains no opiates. Refuse substitutes. Haydon & Robertson.

COURT OF APPEALS

Upholds The Act Creating The State Board of Equalization

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 26.—The Court of Appeals today, in an opinion by Judge O'Rear upholds the constitutionality of the act creating the State Board of Equalization, and directs that the injunction granted by Judge of Louisville, be dissolved in the case of Ray, et al., against Armstrong.
After discussing all phases of the controversy the opinion concludes as follows:
"We conclude the statute is not contrary to the Constitution of Kentucky in that it destroys uniformity of taxation or that it gives the State Board of Equalization and Assessment arbitrary power to fix values that it does not deprive taxpayers of their property without due process of law, that it does not deny to any citizen all the privileges accorded other citizens, and that the board was properly constituted and organized and adopted the resolution complained of (increasing the assessed values) by the sufficient and lawful vote. The judgment is reversed, the injunction dissolved with directions to dismiss the petitions."
The whole court concurred in the opinion.

Forced To Leave Home.

Every year a large number of poor sufferers whose lungs are sore and racked with coughs are urged to go to another climate. But this is costly and not a waysure. There's a better way. Let Dr. King's New Discovery cure you at home. "It cured me of lung trouble," writes W. R. Nelson, of Calumet, Ark., "when all else failed and I gained 25 pounds in weight. It surely the King of all cough and lung cures." Thousands owe their lives and health to it. It is positively guaranteed for Coughs, Colds, Catarrhs, Asthma, Croup, All Throat and Lung troubles, 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free at Haydon & Robertson.

Seriously Injured

Ed Sweasy, a young farmer of Van Buren, this county, lies at the point of death at his home as a result of a runaway accident near Green Chapel, Nelson county. It is reported that he was considerably under the influence of liquor and running his horse up and down the pike, when the animal became unmanageable and ran away, throwing him from the vehicle onto a stone fence. When he was picked up it was found that his skull had been fractured, bones several minor injuries. For several hours his death was momentarily expected, but he rallied somewhat and has been removed to his home. He has regained consciousness. Sweasy is the son of J. J. Hudson Sweasy, the blacksmith at Van Buren and has a wife and five children.—Anderson News.

An Old Veteran's Letter

Willisburg, Ky.,
Nov. 24th 1910.

Editor, News-Leader: Will you give me a short space in your columns once more? I want to talk to the old veterans again.
47 and 48 years ago you were boys. That was the spring time of your life. After the war was over you came home and took up a responsibility that was all our own. And you worked in that capacity through the summer of your life in caring for a family which was your religious duty. In the autumn of life when we were turning gray the children began to leave the home nest to live in other states, they go one at a time until we are nearly left alone, and in the winter time of life we sit and ponder over the past living over again our boyhood days, nothing else gives us more pleasure, but it doesn't last long. For some little duty in our every day life calls us from this pleasant dream and we realize once more that we are in the winter time of life. These are not sad reflections, but natural and pleasant, although we are growing old we are living quietly and contentedly. Now boys let us look back over the past and see where we spent our Thanksgiving 47 years ago. This day 47 years ago was the battle of Lookout Mountain the battle above the clouds. I don't think that day was set apart for Thanksgiving at that time but it was surely a day of thanksgiving for we was out of something to eat and out of wood and the weather was getting cold and our army blankets were to short for we had cut them in half and thrown the other half away. A half blanket was to short to cover our feet so we had to sleep with our shoes on. So boys how would you like to put up with that kind of fare now? I think you would call it mighty tough. Well it's all over and it's all right. I wouldn't change it if I could. Say boys don't you dread the long cold winter, there is always some work to do and boys to do this work for us. Say by the fire all you can, live quietly, pray without ceasing, and a heavenly reward will be yours.
W. V. Cronch
Co. D. 10th Ky.

VENERABLE CITIZEN

Was Mr. James R. Claybrooke who Died Last Thursday

Death, whether it visits the palat of the infant, blights the flower of youth, strikes down robust strength of manhood or comes like a beautiful sunset and steals away the sunlight of decrepitude, is nevertheless accompanied by its sting, which wounds the hearts of those to whom the one it claims was dear, and yet when the allotted portion of work has been done, when the soldier on life's battlefield has received an honorable discharge, when the last agony of death is over, and the soul has sped beyond what satisfaction to troubled minds, what balm to aching hearts, when it can be truly said, "The world is better for this man's having lived in it," and a man of whom this can be truly said, what is considered as a private or public citizen or in the sacred precincts of his home is James R. Claybrooke who entered the eternal sleep last Thursday morning.
He was a son of Thos. M. and Lucy Jeffries Claybrooke, and was born on the 10th day of May 1835 on the same farm on which his grand father settled when he came from Culpeper County, Virginia, and which has been the possession of the Claybrooke's ever since and the same on which he died.
On the 10th day of May 1859 he was united in marriage to Miss Jennie Durant, to this union were born twelve children all of whom with his wife survive, except Hubert H. Claybrooke who died about one year ago. Those who survive are J. R. Jr., J. S., W. D. and John Claybrooke and Miss J. A. Pearl and Ruth Claybrooke and Mrs. Mary C. Englehardt of this county, Mrs. W. H. Crawford and Mrs. John L. Offutt of Bloomfield and Mrs. J. D. Turner, of Lexington.
As a public citizen Mr. Claybrooke was a man who had done excellent service for those whom he represented never forgetting that public officials are the servants of the people and not their masters. He was a lawyer by profession and served two terms as County Attorney of Daviess county. Later he returned to his native county and in 1880 represented it in the State Legislature. As an official he was distinguished for fairness and for his strict adherence to what he believed to be right.
When a young man he was a faithful member until his death. As a church member he was a leader in Sunday School work and has held important official positions in that church for 45 years, having been Superintendent that long. For 40 years he has been a Trustee, and for 25 years church clerk.
But best of all. The place where his noble manhood was at its best, the place where his noblest hours in the association with his life partner, his wife, and the companion of his children. They were his most intimate associates, and he took them into his confidence in all the affairs of his life.
He was upright and honorable in all his dealings with his fellow man, and the family he leaves—his pride remains as a monument to the memory of the man that was in him.
Funeral services were conducted Friday at Bethlehem by Rev. R. L. Pord and Rev. W. H. Williams after which the remains were laid to rest in the cemetery there.

Enjoys Unique Distinction.

James Joshua Abel, perhaps better known as just plain Jimmy Josh, who has on countless occasions in the past said "good morning, your honor" to judges of the various Marion county courts, was before Judge Carter in the county court the other day to answer a charge of house-breaking. He was accused of breaking in and stealing several articles, among them a shot gun which, at this season of the year happens to be a very valuable article. Jimmy cares little, however for small hunting, and he sold the gun to J. Harland Christie, who lay awake for hours at night, wondering how Abel happened to be able. A day or two later he learned. Mr. Seacore claimed the bird-frigate. This evidence was presented to the court and, being uncontradicted, Abel is awaiting the January session of the court for trial at the county jail. Joshua enjoys the distinction of having almost served four terms in the State penitentiary, something of which, possibly no other man in Kentucky will boast. When Abel was being led from the court room a little negro boy, standing nearby, remarked "Dat man can't do more here than nothin'."—Lebanon Enterprise.

Stricken With Paralysis.

W. Butler Mouser suffered a stroke of paralysis Sunday evening about eight o'clock, and was dangerously ill at his home on Market street. He had just returned from attending evening services at St. Augustine's church, and on reaching home and entering the dining room he suddenly and without warning fell to the floor. When aid reached him it was found that his right side was paralyzed and a part of his left side also effected. Medical assistance was immediately summoned. So far, no improvement has been noted in his condition. Mr. Mouser has been connected for many years with the U. S. Internal Revenue Department, and at present is stationed here in charge of a local distiller.—Lebanon Enterprise.

POSTED.

All persons are hereby notified to take warning that I will prosecute any and all persons found hunting on my premises.

TO AVOID MARRIAGE

Says Miss Louise Osterman in a Suit against the Estate of L. O. Spies

Louise Osterman has filed suit against John Price, administrator of the estate of L. O. Spies for $1,000 damages in compensation for mental anguish and disappointment. The plain alleges that she is a married woman and on the 10th day of July she entered in a marriage contract with L. O. Spies, deceased, and in pursuance to the agreement she resigned her position of employment on October 5, last at which time she was earning $5 a week. The plaintiff states that the wedding day was agreed upon as October 20 and pursuant to the said agreement the plaintiff made all arrangements to carry out said agreement by way of sending on the necessary invitations for the wedding and purchasing the necessary wearing apparel for her trousseau and furnishings. It is further alleged that on October 23 L. O. Spies committed suicide, by shooting himself and that the said act of suicide was done solely and purposely and with the intent to avoid carrying out the contract of marriage. Plaintiff says that since the suicide she has suffered great pain and mental anguish. Louisville Times.

LEBANON LOCALS

From The Falcon.

Miss Florrie Hood sold this week to Graves and O'Daniel a three year old heifer that weighed 2,375 pounds for $125. This is the best of the many good cattle sold in this community for some time.

Mr. J. A. Thompson, who was selected by the city council, as a night policeman filed his bond which was approved by the mayor, and Mr. Thompson entered upon the discharge of his duties Monday night.

The farm of 487 acres of land at Boston, Ky., which was advertised by Dobson, Seacore & Co., to be sold Tuesday, in four tracts, was withdrawn. They were offered $14,000 for the farm, which though a considerable advance over the price they paid for the place a year ago, was refused.

Henry Tange, the twelve-year-old son of William Tange, of the Rush Branch section of Warren county, had a narrow escape from death when he fell from a persimmon tree. He landed on a six foot one of the state penetrated his body. His condition is critical, although he is doing well as could be expected under the circumstances.

On Wednesday afternoon Miss Lena Creel, of Campbellsville, and Mr. Arthur Pickler, of Louisville, were married in the former city. They drove through to Lebanon in their large touring car and were the guests that night of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Watson. Yesterday morning Mr. Pickler and wife drove through to Lexington to be the guests of Mrs. R. O. Creel for a few days.

Mrs. Clifton Green entertained in honor of her sister, Mrs. Minton, of Oklahoma, at Pinch, Wednesday evening of last week.

Mrs. Green is quite one of the most delightful hostesses in town and her invitations are never regretted where it is at all possible to accept them. A delicious collation of biscuit cream, fruit and cakes were attractively served after the games.

Nad Hardin Shot.

Nad Hardin of Police Court fame, is suffering from a pistol shot wound in the hip received at the hands of Marshal Grace. Nad had been creating some disturbance for which Mr. Grace had a warrant for him. Eagerly Hardin's house he told the negro to "come on" when Hardin arose from his chair and assumed a threatening attitude toward the officer, when he shot him, breaking his thigh bone.

Mr. Frank Noe had the misfortune to get his arm broke last Thursday while turning the crank on Will Hays's automobile in order to start the motor. The large bone of his forearm was broken, but he is progressing nicely at present.

The Loose Leaf Tobacco Market will open today. Of course as there has been little time for stripping tobacco it is not expected that the sale will be a very large one. However quite a number of loads of tobacco have been brought in. The tobacco buyers are all here and it is expected the market will open strong.

Will Open Next Tuesday.

The Planters' Loose Leaf Tobacco Warehouse near the Depot will open next Tuesday. The new house is equipped with all modern improvements for the handling of tobacco, being well lighted and having a spacious sales floor. This is the fourth house in the city and we predict that all will receive a large volume of business.

A Card of Thanks.

The Sisters of St. Catharine of Sienna Academy tender grateful acknowledgment to the "Alumni" ladies. It may not be invidious to say to the officers of the society especially, for the "Book Shower" that came as a Thanksgiving offering.

Such thoughtfulness is appreciated particularly by the Librarian for whom it was an unexpected addition both in the choice and in the number of volumes. "May God bless the cheerful givers."

Dominican Sisters.

OF LAND AND STOCK

Having gone into the dairy business and wishing to make room for my cows, I will on Thursday, Dec. 8 1910,

Beginning at 12 o'clock, on the land herein advertised for sale sell to the highest bidder the following personal property:

1 pair horse mules, four year old, 154 hands high, extra good ones; 1 mare male, four years old, 154 hands high, as a good one; 1 sorrel mare male, 6 years old, one of the best in the county; 1 3-year-old coach horse, sound and well broke, safe for lady to drive; 1 sorrel horse, three years old, well broke; 1 yearling colt, 3 yearling horses, 1 good mare in foal by Jack; 3 Jennets in foal, 1 extra jack colt, 1 four year old combined mare, 33 head of sheep, 38 shotes, weight about 90 lbs., 1 sow and pigs, 1 thoroughbred Poland China boar, 8 milk cows, 4 yearling steers, 3 heifers.

At the same time and place I will sell to the highest bidder

44 ACRES OF LAND

On the Barbour's Mill pike, 3 1/2 miles northeast of Lebanon, known as the Henry Sobstet land. This is one of the best little farms in the county; has on it a new 3-room frame dwelling and all necessary outbuildings; in excellent condition, having recently been built; plenty of never failing water. It is well located and there is not a foot of waste land in the whole tract. The whole of it is tobacco land. The sale will take place on the above described land.

TERMS—On personality, $15 and under, cash; over that amount 6 month's bankable note, with interest, from date. The land will be sold on terms to suit purchaser.

"It Beats All!"
This is quoted from a letter of M.
Stockwell, Hamilton, Mo. "I recently used Fuley's Honey and Tar for the first time. I say I am pleased. I don't half express my feelings. It beats all the remedies I ever used.
I contracted a bad cold and was threatened with pneumonia. The first doses gave great relief and one bottle completely cured me." Contains no opiates. Haydon & Robinson.

DEATH'S HARVEST

Has Been Heavy In The County During The Past Week.

DERRINGER
Mrs. Nancy Derringer, a highly esteemed and aged lady departed this life on last Sunday at the home of her son, Mr. William Derringer near Valley Pike.
Mrs. Derringer was one of the oldest persons in the county having reached her 99th year. Her death was due to infirmities incidental to old age. She was a good christian woman, who sought the good will of every one and entertained ill feeling for none. Burial services were conducted at Mt. Freedom, Monday. She is survived by three children, Mr. War Derringer, Jas. Derringer and Mrs. Sydney Perkins of this county.

MARRATT

The subject of this sketch was born December 25th 1849, in Springfield, Ky., and departed this life November 26th, 1910.
She was the oldest daughter of James and May Abigail Marratt and a member of one of the oldest and most honored families of the county and was the last of the name in this county. Mrs.
Marratt received her education at Louisville, Ky. and years ago joined the Methodist church in St. Louis, Mo. and has all her life been a faithful and consistent member. Her entire life was characterized by her noble character and untiring zeal in the uplift of mankind. Being a member of a prominent family, and herself accomplished to move in the highest society, yet not even the humblest beggar was beneath her notice, but in her noble generosity of heart she recognized that "All men are equal." The sunshine of her life was shed not only on the hilltops but in the lonely valleys as well.

Funeral services were conducted Sunday afternoon at the Methodist church by Rev. Wade assisted by Rev. W. H. Williams and interment was in Cemetery Hill beneath a mass of flowers the tribute of loving friends.
She is survived by two sisters, Mrs. G. D. Duncan and Mrs. A.
C. Kinball besides numerous other relatives.

TRIBUTES OF LOVE

"Friend after friend departs.
Who hath not lost a friend?" These words are applicable in a special manner in the death of Miss Anna Marratt, who was the friend of all who knew her.
Never has a death occurred in this community that has left a sore spot in so many hearts.
Her warm loving heart seemed too large for her small body, and just overflowed in kind words and acts and sweet smiles toward all with whom she came in contact. She had the faculty of seeing the best side in every one and emphasized it. Her uniform cheerfulness was a rebuke to some of us. I never heard a murmuring word from her, though of course, like us all, she had her trials and disappointments.

Such a life as hers is a blessing may it bear fruit many years to come. Oh! how I shall miss her. I know she was my friend, and faithful true friends are not numerous. But if I miss her how much more those of her home circle? If we did not know "the death of all things well" we would think some mistake had been made when she was called away. But God knows best and will show us sometime that it is all right. May we serve him as she served him and be faithful

So skilled and learned was his in Ancient History that his friends were wont to say of him "When Saunders dies he won't recognize anybody that lived later than the 16th century." Mr. Saunders resigned the pastorate of the Springfield church in the Summer of 1896 rounding out 36 years as Pastor.
The Pleasant Grove church having been erected into a separate Pastorate a number of years prior to this.

After 1896 he devoted his time and his splendid talents to the mountains, which work was abundantly blessed.
In the later part of 1898 he married a second time, this wife who survives him was Miss Emma Wilson, of Ballis Co. Ky.
The splendid home of Mrs.
Saunders was from that time his winter home from which he went out on his mountain trips in Summer; preaching with great earnestness and success the Gospel of Jesus Christ which he so much loved.

Owing to some trouble with his eyes and the increasing infirmities of age, he was confined more and more at home—and finally fell asleep November 25, 1910. Surely a Prince and a great man is fallen.

As a community we sorrow in the loss of a personal friend who always knew how to sympathize with us in trouble.
As a town we mourn the loss of one who always had the welfare of his community at heart and who rejoiced in its prosperity.
As a church, the Presbyterian people mourn one who was wise and kind and faithful. Who was with us in season and out of season for more than a generation. And now he is away, my the memory of his precepts and his kindness, lead us nearer the right way, and help us to gain that reward that we believe is his: "Well done thou good and faithful servant."

EVANS

Mrs. John Evans died Tuesday at the home of her father, Mr.
J. Harrison Nally, near Fredericktown after a lingering illness of Consumption. Mrs.
Evans was born and reared in Washington county and was a very amiable woman with many noble characteristics. She was 25 years old and had been married about 5 years. She leaves her husband and one child. Funeral services will be conducted this morning at St. Rose.

CROUCH

Word was received here yesterday of the death in Oklahoma of Mr. E. A. Crouch, better known as "Jack Crouch." Mr.
Crouch up until two years ago lived here and was a highly respected citizen of the town.

SAUNDERS

In the passing of the Rev.
Miles Saunders, D. D., this community feels a distinct personal loss. Dr. Saunders was born in Decatur county, Indiana, about 75 years ago, was graduated from Centre College in the late fifties, was classmate and coll-egate of some of the most prominent men that Kentucky has produced—and not the least among this number was the Doctor himself.

Having turned his mind toward the Ministry as a vocation, he graduated from the Theological Seminary at Danville just before the outbreak of the civil war, and in the eventful year of 1860 he became Pastor of the Presbyterian churches of Springfield and Pleasant Grove, Washington county, Ky. Here his extraordinary ability as a wise leader and guide was amply shown in the trying days of the war, and in the division that split the Presbyterian church immediately following that struggle.

Such was the wisdom of Dr.
Saunders and so judicious his leadership, that when the churches all over Kentucky were being separated Washington county churches remained intact.
Mr. Saunders in early life married Miss Mayme Booker, daughter of Judge Paul Booker.
The memory of this gifted and godly woman rests like a benediction on this community today.
Mrs. Saunders preceded her husband to the beyond about 14 years.

Mr. Saunders was a man of the finest feelings, the sweetest spirit and the tenderest heart. A remark of his once made to the writer pictures his spirit. "I boast not of godliness but God has endowed me with a tender heart," for while his godliness was undoubted, his tenderness of heart was abundantly manifest.
As a preacher Dr. Saunders was at once scholarly and forceful.
It was often said of him; if you want Saunders to do his best don't give him too much time to prepare. The explanation of this is that if his preparation time was unlimited he was apt to make his efforts too scholarly for the average hearer.

So skilled and learned was his

WITHDRAWN

By agreement of parties the public renting of the lands of the late W. T. Stigall and the sale of corn advertised in last week's issue of the News-Leader has been withdrawn. A disposition of the land and the personality of the said W. T. Stigall will be made in the near future. Most probably it will be offered for sale.

Joseph Polin
Executor of the will of W. T.
Stigall.

The Phenomenal Growth of Springfield Tobacco Market

Two years ago no auction sale of tobacco had ever been held in Springfield.

"During the year 1908 a few enterprising business men looking to the betterment of the farmer, the town of Springfield and this section of the country conceived the idea of establishing a Loose Leaf Market, as had been done in other places in Kentucky.

I was employed by the Washington Co. Warehouse Co. to undertake to carry this plan into execution. I arrived in Springfield November 1st, 1909, but not until November 28th could the first sale be held, as it took considerable persuasion to get the farmers to try this entirely new venture.

This sale and the success of it was a startling revelation. It no longer required coaxing to put tobacco on the warehouse floor.

During this experimental season nearly one million lbs were sold at prices most satisfactory to all concerned.
The Loose Leaf was pronounced a success.

The Washington Co. Warehouse Co., decided to build a regular sales were held for the next season of 1909 and was also built by Boblitt, Bishop & Camden.

During this second season nearly 8,000,000 lbs were sold at prices as high as any point in Kentucky; and little Springfield nestling among the hills of Washington county sprang as by magic into a tobacco market making the older markets take notice.

Seeing that the Loose Leaf filled a long felt want and had come to stay, it was patent to all that ample facilities were needed to handle the weed tributary to the town, the Washington Co. Warehouse Co., increased its capacity by putting up a large plant for the American

WHEN WE SAY "WOOL"

we mean all wool, just wool and only wool. "High-Art" Clothes are not cotton mixed or cotton "fixed." Cast "sheep" eyes or any other kind of eyes at them, and you can't detect a thread or shred of cotton.

Pure wool is the foundation of a good suit or overcoat. "High-Art" clothing is the superstructure. Our moderate prices are the proof, though they keep down on the paragon.

When you buy "High-Art" Clothes, you're in a safe spot with "Integrity." The makers "bond" their fabrics, linings, trimmings and tailoring with honor.

"High-Art Suits" $15 to $35
"High-Art O'Coats" $15 to $30 We show a big line of Suits and Overcoats $7.50 to $12.00.
